Headline:
Warm with sunshine after early fog clears. Isolated showers later.

Today:
Starting fine but chilly for many, with sunny spells developing widely after areas of fog and low cloud retreat to some coastal districts. A few showers may develop inland later, although most will stay dry, with plenty of warm sunshine. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Becoming fine during the evening, although low cloud will re-form in some coastal districts. Becoming generally cloudier from the north overnight, with patchy rain possible in places by dawn. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Wednesday:
A cloudier and cooler day, with the odd spot of rain possible during the morning. Gradually becoming drier and brighter generally from the north later, with further sunshine. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Mostly dry with variable cloud cover and light winds throughout. Overnight frost and fog patches are possible, although it will feel warm in sunny spells by day.
